MANAGEMENT COMMENTARY

September was a stable month for the Fund, delivering 0.33% growth in total return.

Performance was slightly muted versus prior months due to a large volume of placing activity announced in September from some of the Fund's largest portfolio companies, resulting in temporary downward pressure on those share prices.

Significantly oversubscribed placings were achieved by both The Renewables Infrastructure Group ("TRIG") and International Public Partnerships ("INPP"), demonstrating the attractiveness of long term contracted cashflows from infrastructure and renewables projects, particularly against the increasingly subdued wider equity and fixed income markets. We participated in both these placings at a discount to the prevailing share price and it is anticipated that the Fund will benefit from these investments over the near term.

The portfolio's Infrastructure asset class was the strongest performing sector. Most notably was Landmark Infrastructure Partners ("LMRK"), which delivered 17.45% growth. A growth-oriented real estate and infrastructure company, LMRK continues to benefit from its strategy focused on capturing the 5G connectivity opportunity in the US through the roll out of small-scale communications towers to provide the required infrastructure.

FIIF continues to benefit from strong fundraising momentum, with net inflows of £34.5m during the month. The Fund ended the month with a NAV of £396.0m.
