Factsheet | 31 March 2021

Actively managed by the award-winning Foresight Capital Management, FP Foresight Global Real Infrastructure Fund (“the Fund” or “GRIF”) invests in global real infrastructure.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

- To provide growth of more than 3% per annum above the rate of UK inflation (CPI) over any five-year period and provide investors with quarterly dividend distributions.
- To invest only in companies that we believe deliver a net social or environmental benefit and meet the principles of the United Nations Global Compact.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

- Invest exclusively in the publicly traded shares of companies that own or operate real infrastructure or renewable energy assets across the world.
- Provide investors with a globally exposed portfolio with a low correlation to equity market cycles and which delivers a steady return.
- Invest in companies that provide essential services allowing the global economy to function in a sustainable manner while also addressing changing social and demographic requirements.
- Target an underlying portfolio characterised by long-term contracts with highly credit worthy counterparties and which benefit from inflation linkage.
- Regularly monitor the portfolio companies against a predefined set of criteria to ensure they continue to meet our sustainability requirements.

MANAGEMENT COMMENTARY

The Fund delivered a stable performance in the month of March 2021 with a minimal negative total return of -0.31% (net of foreign exchange). Since inception, the Fund has delivered a positive total return of 38.33%, keeping pace with global equities (FTSE All World USD 42.25% over the same period) and outperforming UK equities (FTSE All Share) by 34.74%. The Fund has delivered a six month total shareholder return of 5.87% and a 12 month total shareholder return of 37.66%.

There was a high volume of infrastructure planning and policy announcements during March 2021. In the US, the Biden administration announced details of the highly anticipated $2tn sustainable infrastructure plan. This is likely to have a notable impact on a number of the Fund’s holdings in renewable energy and infrastructure. The plan includes an extension to the tax credits which have been an important driver of investment in renewables, as well as introducing a “clean energy standard” that will mandate the production of carbon-free power by 2035.

Transport infrastructure is another beneficiary with sectors which the Fund has exposure to such as roads, bridges, rail and electric vehicle charging receiving support. Ultimately, the infrastructure plan will further incentivise private capital investment and lead to growth opportunities for the Fund’s investments. Plans were also unveiled to expand the US’s offshore wind capacity target to 30GW by the end of the decade. This provides a direct opportunity for a number of our North American renewable energy stocks, in particular the Fund’s investment in Canadian listed Northland Power, given the company’s long-term strategic focus on offshore wind.

Hydrogen has become an increasing focus of renewable energy and sustainability innovation during recent years. The Fund seeks investment in assets which are both focused on climate solutions and have suitable financial characteristics such as high-grade counterparties, multi-decade contract durations and inflation linked cashflows. Brookfield Renewable Partners (“Brookfield”) announced in March 2021 that the company will partner with Plug Power Inc. on the construction of a green hydrogen facility in the US. Brookfield will supply the renewable energy from one of its nearby hydroelectric sites. Hydrogen is classed as ‘green’ when extracted from water using electrolysis powered by renewable energy. Whilst relatively small, this is an exciting development as it is one of the first deals in this sector to be announced by one of the Fund’s renewable energy investments. Partnering in hydrogen production facilities represents another potentially significant growth opportunity for portfolio companies alongside their existing energy generation operations.

The Fund has continued to see strong support from investors during the month with net inflows bringing the NAV to £537.6m.
