MANAGEMENT COMMENTARY

November saw continued steady performance from the Fund, with a +1.05% total return in the month. There was a positive contribution from all the underlying sectors within the portfolio, but outperformance came from SQN Asset Finance Income ("SQN") in particular. SQN has, in our minds, been undervalued for a long time and its +7.6% return in the month is a signal of improving sentiment from the wider investment community. Its diversified portfolio of loans for core business and infrastructure assets is performing well, and the management team have demonstrated their ability to restructure any underperforming loans.

November was also a good month for Canadian-listed power producer Northland Power Inc (+4.11%), which announced a joint venture with Shizen Energy to develop offshore wind projects in Japan. Combined with the Fund's investment in The Renewables Infrastructure Group ("TRIG"), there is now a growing exposure to the attractive and high-growth offshore wind sector. In the UK, we saw some encouraging portfolio activity from HICL, which disposed of two UK PPP assets and raised £100m in the capital markets via a placing. These disposals realised value for the company and demonstrate the appetite in the secondary market for UK infrastructure assets.

An interim quarterly dividend of 1.72p per income unit was declared at the end of November. This brings the Fund's 12-month trailing yield to 5.37%, as at the end of November, ahead of the Fund's target yield.

FIIF continues to benefit from strong fundraising momentum, with net inflows of £23.7m during the month. The Fund ended the month with a NAV of £456.4m.
